

Beca welcomes Robyn Kierse to lead our Australian Advisory business

Beca is excited to welcome Robyn Kierse as General Manager of our Australian Advisory business, based in Canberra.

An experienced professional with a distinguished career serving the defence and law enforcement sectors, Robyn will lead our Australian Advisory business – which includes management consulting, planning, project strategy and delivery and sustainability practice areas.

Prior to Beca, Robyn was Managing Partner at DXC Consultancy, leading their defence and national security work. She has previously held leadership roles with Downer, Maritime Border Command and the Australian Federal Government. She also brings extensive learning and development experience through a training leadership role at the Australian Border Force Colleges.

On top of this incredible experience, Robyn completed the Executive Masters in Business Administration at Queensland University of Technology (2018) and the Executive Women's Leadership Program at Harvard Business School (2022).

"I'm dedicated and passionate about helping clients and our team realise their full potential by delivering the best solutions for our clients, whilst maximising revenue and growth, through my extensive industry knowledge and professional networks" - Robyn Kierse

"As a trusted advisor who partners with clients to transform ideas into reality, I'm excited to commence my appointment to Beca as the Australian General Manager of Advisory based in the Canberra office.

"I'm dedicated and passionate about helping clients and our team realise their full potential by delivering the best solutions for our clients, whilst maximising revenue and growth, through my extensive industry knowledge and professional networks", Robyn says.

Her words were echoed by David Papps, Acting Managing Director – Beca Australia who added, "I'm delighted to have Robyn join our Australian Leadership Team and I look forward to seeing our Advisory group flourish under her direction, working with our clients to realise some of the incredible opportunities that lie ahead for Australia".

At Beca, our Advisory teams in Australia, New Zealand and Asia work with a wide range of clients across various markets, bringing their enquiring minds, commercial acumen and technical skills to the trickiest problems.
